

Inventors: Bayya et al
Serial Number:

Patent Application
Navy Case Number: 82,919

Abstract

This invention is directed to phosphor particles and to field emission displays using the particles, each of the particles is coated with an electrically conducting material to impart to the particles environmental stability, stability under use conditions, and reduced charging.